TRADITION AND MODERNITY

“COOKIES” POLICY

1. What are “cookies”?

“Cookies” are small text files, comprising of letters and numbers, which are stored on the devices that you are using in order to access our website (for instance, your computer, phone, tablet etc.). These text files contain some pieces of information (for example settings of the website, the language that you chose) which are submitted to us at your next visit to our website. However, the information collected by our “cookies” does not include your name, the content of the forms that you have filled out or other personal data. Instead, they use an identifier (ID) to make the distinction between the users.

2. Why do we use “cookies”?

We use “cookies” only to enhance the functionality of our website, therefore assuring the best user experience. However, we do not use, analytical cookies for collecting, processing or distributing personal data for marketing or promotion purposes.

The “cookies” that we use are necessary to assure that our guests and users’ browsing on our website is optimal.

3. What types of “cookies” do we use?

Irrespective of whether you are a guest or a registered user of our website, a “cookie” named “Ing-avincis” will be installed on your device in order to save your preference regarding the language of the website content.

Furthermore, if you are a registered user of our website and you choose to save your username and password for the next login, another “cookie” named “authuser” will be installed as well in order to keep you logged in, hence making it easier for you to check relevant information such as order history, invoice data etc.

4. Further information related to “cookies”

For further information about “cookies”, you can access www.allaboutcookies.org.

5. Amending the policy

AVINCIS VINURI S.R.L. reserves its right to amend this policy regarding the technical aspects of accessing the website and the usage of “cookies” at any moment.
